MINUTES

A teleconference meeting of the California Authority of Racing Fairs Live Racing Committee was held at 11:00 A.M., Tuesday, December 6, 2011. The meeting was hosted at the California Authority of Racing Fairs Board Room, 1776 Tribute Road, Sacramento, California, 95815.

CARF Live Racing Committee members attending: John Alkire, Norb Bartosik, Tom Sawyer and Tawny Tesconi. Joining by conference call: Mike Paluszak and Stuart Titus.

Staff and Guests attending: Christopher Korby, Larry Swartzlander, Heather Haviland, Amelia White, Raechelle Gibbons, Lisa Drury, Richard Lewis, Tom Doutrich and Louie Brown. Joining by conference call: Dave Mogni, Jim Morgan, Cindy Olsen, Jeff Farley and Dave Elliott.

Agenda Item 1 – Date, Time and Location of Next Meeting. The next CARF Live Racing Committee meeting will be held February 7, 2012 in Sacramento.

Agenda Item 2 – Approval of Minutes. Mr. Paluszak moved to approve the meeting minutes as presented. Ms. Tesconi seconded, unanimously approved.

Agenda Item 3 – Report, Discussion and Action, if any, on Legislative Program for 2012. Mr. Brown reported that a handout was contained in the meeting packet outlining prospective legislative efforts for the 2012 session.

Mr. Brown stated that the legislature is in recess until January 3, 2012. When they return, their primary focus will be the state budget followed by elections, which will be closely tied to budget. Projections indicate that the current fiscal-year budget will carry a $3-4 billion deficit, which will trigger automatic spending cuts. The first cuts will affect public education, higher education and select health and welfare programs. As the budget situation continues to look bleak, more focus will turn to the potential legalization of Internet poker to generate a new revenue source. The proponents of Internet poker claim legalization would generate $250 million yearly in new revenue from the selling of licenses alone. Tribal casinos and cards clubs are looking at Internet poker as a means to expand their business model. The racing industry has been meeting to determine a position and ensure that racing is involved in the discussion.

For the 2012 legislative session, CARF will be involved with, or initiating, the following efforts: fair governance, license relief for racing fairs, Internet poker, lifting the calendar limitations for combined fair race meets and extending the CMC sunset.

Fair governance involves changing the status or oversight of District Agriculture Associations (DAAs). CARF will be involved in the effort collaboratively with the administration, Western Fairs Association and California Fair Alliance.

License fee relief for racing fairs refers to the decision made three years ago to grant license fee relief across the board for the racing industry while continuing to allocate 1% from racing fairs to F&E (roughly $400,000 annually). The CARF Live Racing Committee and Board of Directors will need to discuss whether license fee relief and determine the appropriate course of action.

Discussions regarding Internet poker will continue to evolve and CARF will have a seat at the table in identifying uses and purposes for any new revenue that might be generated, such as dedicating a percentage of new money to capital improvements at racing facilities.

Several years ago, CARF, TOC and Golden Gate Fields amended the language in statute to extend the calendar period within which a combined fair meeting could be conducted to June 1 through October 30. With the current uncertainty regarding the future of Golden Gate Fields, it would be advantageous for fairs to seek increased flexibility to conduct a race meet during calendar periods outside of tradition fair dates. Ideally CARF will seek to completely eliminate calendar restrictions.

The California Marketing Committee (CMC) is scheduled to sunset in 2013. CARF may propose a spot bill for industry discussion regarding the merits of continuing the program.

Mr. Korby added that the restructuring of CHRIMS might also become part of the 2012 CARF legislative program.

Ms. Tesconi moved approval for CARF Staff to proceed with the plan titled "CARF Prospective Legislative Efforts in 2012 Session" as presented. Ms. Tesconi added that CARF should be sensitive to Fair interests when reviewing the topic of license fee relief. Mr. Brown replied that developments in Fair governance should provide a level of Fair oversight, complete with a funding mechanism, which might create a package solution. Mr. Sawyer seconded, unanimously approved.

Agenda Item 4 - Report, Discussion and Action, if any, on Northern California Racing Dates for 2012. Mr. Korby reported that ongoing discussions and negotiations are continuing with the Thoroughbred Owners of California (TOC), Golden Gate Fields (GGF), CARF and Humboldt County Fair (HCF) regarding race dates in mid-August 2012. Thus far, two meetings have been conducted in which opening positions were established. GGF made a proposal to allow HCF to operate as host track for five days (August 15-17 and August 22-23). That proposal has been acknowledged by HCF, but not accepted. HCF is seeking unoverlapped racing for five consecutive days, including host status on a Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Another meeting has been scheduled for Thursday, December 8, 2011 via conference call. If an agreement is not reached, the CHRB has offered to serve as mediator.

Mr. Korby asked Mr. Titus if he would like to add anything to the report. Mr. Titus responded that Mr. Korby explained the situation accurately and that HCF remains open to good-faith efforts to resolve the problem while working towards a long-term solution.

Mr. Alkire asked if Mr. Titus has an estimated figure for HCF's anticipated shortfall, which has been requested by industry principles at other meetings. Mr. Titus responded that the figure is $176,000 for 2012. Mr. Korby asked if the CARF project monies made available from F&E had been incorporated into that figure. Mr. Titus stated that they had been incorporated into the financials after the November CARF meeting.

Mr. Korby asked that Mr. Titus respond to an e-mail he sent on December 1, 2011 to prepare for the conference call on Thursday.

Agenda Item 5 – Report, Discussion and Action, if any, on TOC Elections. The California Thoroughbred Horsemen's Association (CTHA), the newly formed horsemen's group that submitted a petition to the CHRB in August to begin the TOC decertification process, and the TOC have reached an agreement between themselves and the California Horse Racing Board whereby after certain conditions are met, the TOC will conduct an election for all seats on its Board of Directors, and all California thoroughbred owners will be eligible to vote in that election regardless of whether they hold a second license in some other occupational category.

This resolution by mutual agreement put an end to what had been a very divisive and emotional situation for California horsemen.

Agenda Item 6 – Report, Discussion and Action, if any, on Agency Budget for 2012. Mr. Korby introduced the 2012 agency budget. Budget highlights include:

- Review, elimination and reallocation of salary categories for agency personnel
- Reduction of CARF member dues by 10%
- Budget legislative advocacy to actual expense
- Reduce rent for Tribute Road offices based on new contract rate

The 2012 budget proposes tapping reserves for $120,559 to cover the elimination of administrative fees from Projects Revenue and to reduce member dues.

- Agency reserves at end-of-year 2010 - $709,681
- Agency reserves at end-of-year 2011 - $973,755
- Agency reserves estimated at end of 2012 - $853,196

Mr. Korby reported that the budget packet also contains a page that shows the revenue derived to Fairs by the programs CARF manages on behalf of its members.

Mr. Bartosik moved to approve the budget as presented and to recommend the budget as written to the CARF Board of Directors. Mr. Sawyer seconded, unanimously approved.

Agenda Item 7 – Executive Director’s Report. Mr. Korby reported that he was elected Co-Chair of the California Marketing Committee (CMC).

Mr. Korby reported that the Assistant Operations Manager position was eliminated from the CARF staff. Those duties will be absorbed into the responsibilities of other staff members.

CARF will be meeting with TOC representatives in Fresno to recap the 2011 meets and plan for 2012 and beyond in Northern California.

Respectfully submitted,
Heather Haviland

LEGISLATIVE OVERVIEW

Horse Racing United appreciates the opportunity to provide our thoughts on potential internet gaming legislation under consideration in the Senate and Assembly. We note at the outset that the California horse racing industry currently has the exclusive legal right to conduct Internet wagering within the California. These rights were granted to the industry by the Legislature in (2001) in recognition of the importance of the horse industry as an agri-business to California's economy and as a way to mitigate the competitive impact on our industry from previous expansions of gaming including the creation of the lottery and the inception of Tribal Gaming.

Legal Internet wagering on horse racing, known as advanced deposit wagering, has become a critical part of our business over the past decade. During that time, and in good faith reliance on the exclusive internet wagering rights granted from the legislature, we have restructured our industry's business model to maximize future growth in this area. As such, any new legislation that removes racing's exclusive rights within this area would be a severe encroachment on our industry and would seriously jeopardize the multi-billion dollar horse agribusiness and 50,000 jobs we bring to California.

HORSE RACING UNITED POSITION - INTERNET GAMING LEGISLATION

1. Legislation would be limited to Internet Poker only (no other forms of Internet wagering or social gaming would be authorized.)
2. Strict limit to the number (e.g. three to five total) of Internet gaming licenses granted by the state to the existing gaming interests within the State
3. Horse Racing United would receive one of a limited number of licenses on behalf of all of the "live racing" providers in the State (including racetracks, fairs, owners and breeders). Advance deposit wagering companies (ADWs) would not be entitled to their own license but could potentially serve as a provider to Horse Racing United pursuant to paragraph 4 below.
4. Horse Racing United, as a licensee, would have the opportunity to partner with a third-party to operate and/or provide financing of Horse Racing United's internet wagering site, provided that such third parties met reasonable suitability requirements.
5. Organized labor must receive fair treatment in the legislation in recognition of the potential impact of legislation authorizing an expansion of internet gaming on existing jobs within California.

Mike,

California Authority of Racing Fairs will not be making a presentation on February 9. We plan to be present and to participate in discussions regarding any implementation of exchange wagering.

There are many unknown factors associated with this form of wagering. We believe that the entire industry should be in agreement on how to proceed and that a full review and assessment of its impact on all industry participants is important before proceeding with implementation.

Thank you for the opportunity to participate.

Best regards,

Chris:

The CHRB Ad Hoc Committee on Exchange Wagering invites the California Authority of Racing Fairs to be among those organizations and individuals making formal presentations at a public hearing on Thursday, February 9, 2012, in the Baldwin Terrace Room at Santa Anita Park. The meeting is tentatively scheduled to begin at 9:30 a.m. CHRB Vice Chairman David Israel (Chair) and Commissioner Richard Rosenberg are the Committee members.

Business & Professions Code section 19604.5 requires the Board to promulgate administrative rules for the regulation of exchange wagering in California. The Committee is seeking public input on these proposed rules and exchange wagering prior to the proposed rules being considered by the full Board at a public meeting on February 23, followed by a 45-day public notice period and a subsequent public hearing to be conducted by the Board. Drafts of the proposed rules will be available at the February 9 public hearing.

If you plan to make a formal presentation at the February 9 public hearing, please advise Assistant Executive Director Jackie Wagner prior to the close of business this Wednesday, January 25, either by e-mail or telephone (916-263-6041). Please copy me in that response. And be sure to let us know if you will require any special equipment for your presentation (e.g. PowerPoint projector).

With appreciation,

Mike Marten

Great Britain-based Betfair, the largest operator of exchange wagering in the world, admitted it did not inform its customers that details of millions of credit cards were stolen in a major cyber attack 18 months ago, the UK Press Association reported Sept. 29.

More than 3.1 million account names with encrypted security questions, 2.9 million usernames, and about 90,000 account usernames with bank account details were stolen in an attack in March 2010, UKPA reported.

Betfair, which owns the U.S.-based TVG racing network, told officials it didn't inform its registered customers of the attack because its security measures made the data unusable for fraudulent activity. The company also said it was able to recover the data intact.

A report commissioned into the theft, seen by the Daily Telegraph, was published Sept. 27, 2010, six days after Betfair announced its intention to sell on the London Stock Exchange.

A Betfair spokesman told the UKPA it decided not to disclose the attack because there was no impact on customers. The company did, however, report the incident the Serious Organized Crime Agency in Great Britain.

Betfair has repeatedly touted its security system and has pushed for exchange wagering in the United States.

"We have subsequently implemented all of the recommendations from the independent reports we commissioned and have done everything we can to minimize the risk of this happening again," the spokesman told the UKPA.

History

Peer-to-peer betting, the precursor to a betting exchange, was first released in the UK by Flutter.com in May 2000. Soon after, UK-based Betfair launched what it originally called "open-market betting", in June 2000 - a name which was quickly changed, by the media and the associated industry, to "betting exchange". Betfair embraced an exchange model, but it took a year before Flutter adopted a similar technology. Though Flutter managed to climb to a reported 30% market share, Flutter's backers were content to broker a merger which left Betfair the dominant partner by a reported ratio of 84:16. Post merger, Flutter's customers were transferred to Betfair's system, which was later upgraded to embrace some of Flutter's functionality. Betfair has maintained from that point a dominant marketshare and controls a reported 90% of global exchange activity today.

As with other types of exchanges, betting exchanges thrive on liquidity and customers tend to focus on the exchange where they are confident their bet can be paired up with a matching counterbet. Breaking with British tradition, Betfair uses decimal odds instead of fractional (traditional) odds because they are more popular globally.

Exchanges and traditional bookmakers compared

Most exchanges make their money by charging a commission which is calculated as a percentage of net winnings for each customer on each event, or market. Gamblers whose betting activities have traditionally been restricted by bookmakers (normally for winning too much money) have found these sites a boon since they are now able to place bets of a size unrestricted by the exchange - the only restriction is that one or more opposing customers need to be willing to match their bets. Moreover, the odds available on a betting exchange are usually better than those offered by bookmakers, in spite of the commission charged, because the middle man is eliminated.

In spite of these advantages, exchanges currently have some limitations. Because exchanges seek to concentrate their liquidity in as few markets (i.e. propositions) as possible they are not currently suited to unrestricted multiple parlay betting. Betfair does offer accumulators but these are limited in number and type: Users cannot determine the outcomes contained in accumulators themselves. Some exchanges also offer multiples but the exchanges act in the same manner as traditional bookmakers in doing so (i.e. they themselves and not a customer act as the layer of such bets). Exchanges also tend to restrict the odds that can be offered to between 1.01 (1 to 100) and 1000 (999 to 1).

A further advantage that traditional bookmakers retain over exchanges is that bookies are better willing and able to allow customers to bet on credit. There are two obvious reasons for this:

- Exchanges operate on much tighter margins, which lessens their ability to absorb bad debts.
- Allowing customers to bet on credit would likely compromise customer confidence in the financial integrity of an exchange, especially when one considers the effects of the ongoing credit crisis and the close association between betting exchanges and Internet betting in general.

That said, Betfair are licensed to give credit and have done in "exceptional circumstances".<sup>[1]</sup>

Laying

Contrary to bookmaker and totalisation systems, betting exchanges offer the opportunity to lay, which is to bet that a selection will not occur. This is the position bookmakers have traditionally taken when offering a bet to somebody to back that the outcome will win.

For example, if someone thinks Team A will win a competition, he may wish to back that selection. A bookmaker offering the punter that bet would be laying that selection. The two parties will agree the backer's stake and the odds. If the team loses, the layer/bookmaker keeps the backer's stake. If the team wins, the layer will pay the backer the winnings based on the odds agreed.

As every bet transacted requires a backer and a layer, and the betting exchange is not a party to the bets transacted on it, any betting exchange requires both backers and layers. Of course, the distinction is moot: A layer is always simply backing that the event will not occur. Laying the home team is the same as backing the visiting team to win or draw. Laying one horse in a race is just the same as backing all of the other horses to win.

In-play betting

A further advantage to the exchange model is the ability to allow bets to be made in-running or in-play (i.e. to make bets while a race or match is in progress) without undue risk to the operator. This feature is generally restricted to the most popular events for which widespread, live television coverage is available.

Whereas non-in-play bets are entered into the system immediately after being placed by the customer, when betting in-play a time delay might be instituted so as to make it somewhat more difficult for unscrupulous customers to accept offers for bets that for whatever reason have suddenly become highly favorable. Markets may also be actively managed by the operator. In this case, betting will be briefly halted after each occurrence likely to cause a substantial change in the odds (for example, in association football matches goals, penalty kicks and sendings off would warrant such suspensions), so that unmatched bets can be cancelled.

In-play betting is not currently available on exchanges licensed in Australia due to local regulations.

Trading

The advent of the betting exchange has given rise to new types of gamblers - the trader and arbitrageur. Arbitrageurs (colloquially "arbers") attempt to simultaneously bet on all possible outcomes to make a guaranteed profit. A trader operates similarly to an arbitrageur, but is willing to take on extra risk and bet on events where no immediate profit is possible. A trader hopes to make a profit by closing out the bet at a later stage at more favorable odds. Closing out a bet for profit involves collecting more money by laying than is paid out when the outcome is backed back. If the event does not occur then no money is lost, alternatively if a trader is able to lay a higher stake at shorter odds than his back stake then he can theoretically guarantee the same amount of profit regardless of the outcome. On the other hand, if the odds move against the trader he might be compelled to close out the bet for a loss. Trading can be done either before the start of an event or while the event is in progress if in-play betting is offered, although the latter situation can be much more risky.

Traders can make money by betting exclusively with betting exchanges or bookmakers, or by combining the two. The trader could lay at a low amount on a betting exchange and then back at a higher price with a bookie or another exchange. This must be done simultaneously to guarantee a profit or else the opportunity could quickly cease to exist with liquid markets quickly correcting prices and bookies trying to avoid being arbitrated.

Most exchanges post the book percentages (colloquially known as the overround or "vig") prominently for each market. These percentages are essentially the cumulative implied percentage chances of the odds on offer for each selection and for a single winner market will usually add up to more than 100% for all back selections (but only marginally over in a competitive market), and under 100% for the lay selections. This ensures that simultaneously backing or laying all selections in a market will not normally guarantee a profit. Occasionally though (especially in circumstances where odds are prone to change rapidly) exceptions will arise where offers to back or lay all selections will be made that if simultaneously and cumulatively accepted at exactly the right stakes would permit an arbitrageur to guarantee a profit. However, such phenomena tend to correct themselves very quickly and exchanges generally try to dissuade customers from attempting to take advantage of such circumstances.

Furthermore, for a trader or arbitrageur to combine different exchanges and/or bookmakers for a profit requires a substantial price differential if a profit is in fact to be made once the exchange's commission is taken into account. Even between exchanges, such large price differences are rare, brief and usually involve relatively small stakes. Fortunately for traders, almost all betting exchanges charge commission on net winnings only and charge no commission at all in the event of a net loss. This suits the trader's high turnover, low profit strategy provided he bets exclusively with a single exchange.

The profit or loss for a trader will typically be no more than 10% of the total amount of his combined back and lay stakes, so to make meaningful amounts of money a trader needs to commit a relatively large amount of capital. The trader therefore runs the risk of having a large unwanted bet on an event if he is unable to close his position before the event starts (e.g. if there are technical problems with his Internet connection or with the exchange).

While traditional punters' opinion of traders is decidedly mixed, exchanges have generally welcomed them on account of the vast amounts of capital and liquidity they bring. Traders and arbitrageurs are often credited with "seeding" markets with more competitive prices than would be present without them. However, Betfair's imposition of a premium charge in September 2008 was seen by some as being directed at the most skilled traders, whom it is speculated trade for a loss very infrequently and thus would otherwise pay little in the way of commission. In response, rival exchanges have pledged not to introduce similar charges, perhaps in hopes of enticing traders to move their business (and capital) elsewhere.

Controversy

The fact gamblers can now lay outcomes on the exchanges has resulted in criticism from traditional bookmakers including the UK's "Big Three" - Gala Coral Group, Ladbrokes and William Hill. These firms argue that granting "anonymous" punters the ability to bet that an outcome will not happen is causing corruption in sports such as horse racing since it is much easier to ensure a horse will lose a race.

Exchanges counter that, while corruption is possible on any gambling platform, the bookies' arguments are motivated not by concern for the integrity of sport but by commercial interests. Exchanges also assert they are well aware of who their customers are and keep a complete record of all betting activity in case of enquiries. Furthermore, customers can monitor the odds on the exchanges' user-friendly platforms independently. Exchanges and the authorities can be immediately alerted should suspicious betting patterns become apparent. Some exchanges have signed agreements with governing bodies of sport including the Jockey Club, with whom they insist they will co-operate with fully if the latter suspects corruption to have taken place. Exchanges have co-operated with police investigations when asked to do so, sometimes leading to arrests.

BRITISH HORSERACING REACTS TO BETFAIR'S IPO ANNOUNCEMENT

Following today's announcement from Betfair that it intends to list on the London Stock Exchange, Paul Roy, Chairman of the British Horseracing Authority, said:

"Today's announcement is no real surprise to the markets. What will be of great interest is that it comes a day after the close of a major consultation process by the Horserace Betting Levy Board, that strikes at the heart of Betfair's model, at a time when the figure of an underpayment to Racing of £30m has been stated by a leading betting industry figure, and during which the future relationship between exchange betting and Racing is under close scrutiny by the relevant authorities.

"The markets will understand that we are in the midst of a new process which will decide the basis on which all parts of the betting industry, including Betfair, will contribute to the Levy. It is clear the contribution is going to have to be on a significantly different basis to what has gone before. We are ready for serious dialogue with the betting industry, which includes exchanges, through the Levy Board. We await the betting industry's position. A failure to resolve issues by agreement will see it referred to Government and the Secretary of State for Culture, Media and Sport at the end of October.

"British Racing is the sport upon which Betfair was founded, and from which it continues to generate a substantial proportion of its business. There are many in British Racing who for a great many reasons would not have allowed exchange betting, had it been our choice as opposed to the Government's. The history of the last few years has proved those sceptics to have been right. This was compounded significantly by the failure of a system based on database rights which was intended to replace the Levy. Under that system, Betfair would have had to enter into commercial arrangements with Racing, as well as any betting operators wanting to offer bets on the sport.

"There remain a number of fundamental questions around the business of exchange betting. We are confident that these will be resolved as part of the wider issue of the relationship between racing and betting. The new Government has signalled its policy commitment to ensuring a value transfer from betting to Racing as it sets policy to catch up with changes in technology and the way people bet.

"We would entirely agree that Betfair has been "disruptive" and "fundamentally changed the sports betting market." Whether intended or not, it has certainly disrupted British Racing's finances, and has created severe consequences. It has indeed, for its customers, "eliminated the need for a traditional bookmaker", and markets itself as "cutting out the middle man". At the same time Betfair has argued it should be treated as a traditional bookmaker for the purposes of its contribution to our sport. Betfair cannot have it both ways.

“Our response to the Levy Board consultation states that it seems certain that some customers of Betfair and other exchanges that carry on the business of receiving or negotiating bets, and that should therefore be paying Levy. This is entirely consistent with Betfair processing more transactions per day last year than all European stock exchanges combined, with some of their clients making many thousands of transactions and data requests on a daily basis.

“Any international racing jurisdiction considering permitting Betfair to operate in their territory has to give very careful consideration to the impact on their sport, and learn from the British experience. In fact, we understand that they are offering far better terms to other Racing authorities, and we call on Betfair to now engage with us constructively and end the uncertainty.”

Dear Mr. Korby:

Re: Owners Credentials/Privileges

In recent years Thoroughbred Owners of California (TOC) has heard from owners that some privileges might be offered by one fair and not at another. Free parking is one example. TOC would like the CARF member Fairs to implement a set of minimum and, more importantly, consistent standards for owners attending the races. It is TOC's intention to add language in this area to the 2012 Horsemen's Agreement, not unlike what exists with other racing associations.

TOC understands that each Racing Fair has its own unique challenges but feels that the following items should be available to owners holding either a valid CHRB license or a unique horsemen's credential, should CARF wish to create one.

A single phone number for owners to have questions answered
Parking in a designated area
Tram or shuttle from parking area should that area be a "distance"
Clubhouse or equivalent admission for owner plus one guest
Minimum of four passes per owner or partner with an "in-today" horse
Reserved seating for owners with a horse in a Stake plus as many passes as possible for guests
Consistent procedures for winning owners to request and receive race video

We encourage individual Fairs to offer additional items or VIP areas to owners should they be available. TOC would also like to help get more owners to attend the fairs and will advertise these benefits once they have been discussed and agreed to.

We look forward to our next meeting and the opportunity to discuss this topic in further detail.

Richard Scheidt

Dear Mr. Korby:

Re: Consolidated Administration of Purses

This letter is to inform you of the Thoroughbred Owners of California's (TOC) intentions moving forward with regards to the Consolidated Administration of Purses (CAP) for the CARF member Fairs. As you know, TOC and CARF have a two-year CAP agreement in place that expires at year end 2011. Due to what we feel has been an overwhelming success with regards to maintaining consistent purse levels throughout the Racing Fairs, it is our intention to add language to the 2012 Race Meet Agreement that keeps the CAP in place.

In a related matter, we also intend to modify language in the agreement as it relates to purse underpayments and overpayments. We would like new language to allow for flexibility on the part of both parties on how underpayments and overpayments are handled.

Please let me know at your earliest convenience if you or any CARF member Fair objects to moving forward with these intended changes.

TOC looks forward to working with you in making the 2012 CARF Racing Fairs a success.

CARF RECRUITMENT PROGRAM 2011

RACING FAIR PROGRAM TO RECRUIT OUT-OF-STATE HORSE OWNERS AND TRAINERS TO COMPETE IN CALIFORNIA

CHRISTOPHER KORBY, EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR
DECEMBER 2011

2011 OUT-OF-STATE RECRUITMENT PROGRAM

SUMMARY

GOALS AND OBJECTIVES

Since 2001, the California Authority of Racing Fairs (CARF) has conducted a program to actively recruit out-of-state owners, trainers and horses to compete on the Northern California Summer Racing Circuit. The goal of the program is simple: increase the field size for summer racing in Northern California. In order to accomplish this goal, CARF has set three objectives for the program: 1) inform and educate horsemen in other jurisdictions to the benefits of racing in California; 2) retain horsemen who have elected to compete in Northern California in previous years; and 3) offer financial incentives to assist horsemen with the cost of shipping horses to Northern California.

RECRUITMENT VISITS OUT-OF-STATE

Each spring CARF schedules a series of out-of-state recruitment visits in order to 1) personally meet one-on-one with horsemen in other jurisdictions; 2) explain the benefits of our program; and 3) invite them to compete in Northern California for the summer. In 2011, these visits included two trips to Arizona, a total of four days, with a reception at Turf Paradise and a three-day stay at Portland Meadows and Grant's Pass in Oregon, where we also sponsored a reception. Emerald Downs in Washington has also recently been targeted for recruitment. These visits allow CARF management to respond personally and directly to questions or concerns about such matters as workmen's compensation, backstretch labor inspections and purse structures. In addition to the receptions and the personal visits with horsemen, CARF distributes an extensive packet of information to educate and inform horsemen about current issues of interest in California. By word of mouth, information about the program has also reached horsemen in Iowa, Idaho, West Virginia, New Mexico, Utah and Washington.

RELOCATION FEES

In order to financially assist horsemen who choose to ship horses to our circuit, in 2011 CARF paid a $300 Relocation Fee to the owner of any horse shipping into Northern California from over 600 miles for the horse's first start and $150 for the horse's second start. A runner making its first start at Ferndale received $150 for the first start and $150 for the second start, as well as an additional $150 for starting again Fresno. The Relocation Fee gives some extra meaning to our invitation to come to California. In some cases, the incentive may create the tipping point as an owner or trainer decides about shipping to our circuit. The Relocation Fee also creates a Paymaster record that allows us to accurately track the results of our program from year to year.

Results of CARF Program to Increase Field Size

The Fair Out-of-State Recruitment Program, administered by the California Authority of Racing Fairs, pays $300 to every horse that travels 600 or more miles to start on the Northern California Fair Circuit for its first start and an additional $150 for its second start ($450 total). A runner making its first start at Ferndale receives $150 for each of two starts, with another $150 available if the horse starts again at Fresno.

Where did out-of-state horses come from in 2004? Did the trend continue in 2005?

In 2004, recruiting efforts were focused on Arizona horsemen. As a result, horses from Arizona made up 75% of all out-of-state starts on the Fair Circuit.

In 2005, CARF recruitment efforts expanded to Oregon. The resulting increase of Oregon horsemen helped the Fairs become less dependent on one region for its horse supply. (Arizona).

Berkeley Lab Selects Richmond Field Station as Preferred Site

January 23, 2012

The University of California announced today that it has identified the Richmond Field Station as its preferred site for the proposed consolidation of the biosciences programs of the Lawrence Berkeley National Laboratory (Berkeley Lab). The University of California-owned site presents the best opportunity to solve the Lab's pressing space problems while allowing for long term growth and maintaining the 80 year tradition of close cooperation with the UC Berkeley Campus.

With this identification of a preferred site, the University will now move ahead with developing environmental impact studies and with the process of seeking final approval from the US Department of Energy for the project.

"Each city, community, and their developer partners presented extremely thoughtful and well-formulated proposals for us to consider, for which we are deeply grateful," says Berkeley Lab Director Paul Alivisatos. "The communities of Albany, Alameda, Berkeley, Emeryville, Oakland and Richmond have been true partners in this process. While we can only pick one site, we hope that the new relationships we've made will continue to help us foster excitement in science. The enthusiasm is wonderful affirmation of the desire of the entire East Bay to be part of developing scientific solutions to some of the greatest challenges facing our society."

The University of California received more than 20 responses when a Request for Qualifications (RFQ) was released earlier this year. The number of sites under review was narrowed in May to:

- Alameda Point, in the city of Alameda;
- Berkeley Aquatic Park West, located in West Berkeley;
- Brooklyn Basin, located in Oakland;
- Emeryville/Berkeley, (includes properties currently occupied by the Lab in Emeryville and West Berkeley);
- Golden Gate Fields, spanning the cities of Berkeley and Albany;
- Richmond Field Station, a site currently owned by the University of California.

REPORT OF THE CHAIRMAN

In my Chairman's letter of this time last year, I wrote that, while times continued to be challenging, there were developments that gave cause for optimism. Both forecasts turned out to be true, and it would be appropriate to face the coming year with a similar view.

Handle continued to suffer as the economy continued to struggle. This is a national phenomenon and one that won't change substantially for the better without a real bounce in the economy. However, tough times call for innovative thinking and marketing, and we certainly have begun to see positive results from the related new initiatives. While it's true that a large majority of handle is now generated off track, primarily through Advance Deposit Wagering, we must continue to strive for real improvement with the experience a fan gets when attending the track. Several of the racetracks in California, especially the racing fairs, have made extraordinary efforts over the last couple of years in this regard, and their success is to be applauded. We must never forget, it is the live experience that turns a casual spectator into a lifelong fan.

As I wrote last year, the California Legislature approved SB 1072 in September of 2011 and the bill was signed by then Governor Schwarzenegger the same month. This new law includes provisions for higher purses for horse owners and also earmarks marketing funds to attract the Breeders' Cup back to California. Higher purse money is a necessity in this State, as we are one of the few major racing jurisdictions that cannot and does not rely on subsidies from some other form of gambling, such as slot machines, etc. Without competitive purses, our field sizes would dwindle and then handle would follow, resulting in a self-perpetuating downward cycle. I am pleased to report that with purse money up an average of 25 percent from the previous year, we enjoyed not only increased field size but by the end of 2011 we had a considerable increase in the number of horses in training. Most tracks ended their meets with underpayments in purses, thereby giving us some optimism that the increases in both purses and field size can be maintained.

Of course, one of the highlights of the year was winning the Breeders' Cup World Championships back to Southern California for 2012. The event will be held this November at the magnificent facility of Santa Anita. The bid process was highly competitive, and therefore our selection reflects well on all involved in racing here.

In closing, therefore, I remain cautiously optimistic about our prospects for continued improvement in 2012. I would be remiss if I didn't use this opportunity to again sincerely thank each and everyone involved in horse racing for their seemingly endless and tireless efforts in helping to keep our great sport on the right course. On behalf of all my fellow commissioners, we tip our collective hat to you.

Keith Brackpool
Chairman

HIGHLIGHT

Fairs Strategically Reduced Racing to Enhance Product

THE CALIFORNIA FAIRS

Despite a staggering economy and a nationwide downward trend in the racing industry, business was strong on the Northern California fair circuit. Several facilities experienced record or near-record attendance along with significant increases in various handle categories. Fairs leveraged ties in their local communities by offering families an exciting entertainment alternative at a value. As a natural extension of the fair experience, several locations offered entertainment between horse races to keep fans captivated. These efforts were rewarded with full grandstands and packed aprons.

To ensure that fairs offered the best quality product possible, Stockton, Pleasanton, Sacramento, and Fresno reduced racing to four-day weeks. In 2010, fairs began a long-term restructuring and consolidation process with goals to optimize the horse population through the reduction of race dates, offer more turf racing, and generate better racing opportunities for all classifications of thoroughbreds. The decision to run four-day weeks was a byproduct of that process in order to create the strongest racing cards possible.

The California Authority of Racing Fairs (CARF) worked closely with the Thoroughbred Owners of California (TOC) to create a consolidated purse program, which provided the flexibility to write condition books to ensure that one fair did not build up at the expense of another. Working as a single unit, fairs were able to better manage purses, closely track the levels of purses paid in relation to purses generated, and perhaps most importantly, provide consistency for horsemen throughout the circuit.

As part of that effort to provide consistency, the horse population was carefully managed under a single racing secretary. Also, six new stakes were added to the program, including a pair of $75,000 routes for 2 year olds at Fresno for which eligibility preference was given to runners who competed on the fair circuit. In an effort to create fuller fields, bottom-level purses were increased, including a new series for $5,000 to $10,000 claimers.

In recognition of the Northern California horse shortage, fairs increased their recruiting efforts in Washington and focused on transitioning horsemen affected by the cancellation of the Yavapai Downs meeting in Arizona. The out-of-state recruitment program, managed by CARF, produced 175 horses that made 328 starts on the fair circuit. The number of recruited horses was up 15 percent from 2010, and those horses represented 11 percent of fair starters.

The summer season on the fair circuit provided Northern California horsemen with their only chance to run on true dirt surfaces. In order to maximize that experience, management of the Fair Track Safety and Maintenance Program sought to continually improve the natural racing surfaces. In order to provide safety and consistency to the circuit, all surfaces were overseen by the same track superintendent and equipped with state-of-the-art equipment, including uniform all-tread tractors, a state-of-art Kimsey horse ambulance, and custom water trucks.

San Joaquin County Fair Offer of Free Attendance Engaged the Community

STOCKTON

In a time when every penny counts, the San Joaquin County Fair took a new approach to community involvement by offering free daily admission. The result was a packed grandstand and increases in both handle and fair concessions, giving management a reason to believe that the additional exposure will buoy the fair's future move into a September slot.

In addition to free admission, patrons enjoyed a newly renovated winner's circle, which transformed the former 12' x 20' grass enclosure into a 120' x 50' walking ring/winner's circle with wrought iron railing and heavily landscaped interior.

On-track attendance increased 49 percent and on-track handle increased 16 percent when compared to 2010. The number of thoroughbred starters per race increased from 6.73 in 2010 to 7.12 in 2011.

The leading trainer for the meet was Steve Sherman, while Russell Baze and Abel Cedillo tied for leading jockey honors with five wins each.

Alameda County Fair Set All-Time Attendance Record

PLEASANTON

The Alameda County Fair, home of America's oldest one-mile racetrack, concluded its 13-day race meet by setting a new attendance record of 452,746 fairgoers. Racing fans wagered a total of $32.9 million on the Pleasanton product, with on-track wagers up 2 percent compared to 2010.

Even though the fair reduced racing by 13 percent (13 race days in 2011 compared to 15 race days in 2010), the overall amount wagered was only down 5.5 percent and the daily average handle was up 10 percent (from $2.3 million in 2010 to $2.53 million in 2011). According to CEO Rick Pickering, "By not racing Wednesdays, the fair was able to provide larger fields of horses on Thursdays through Sundays, bucking the national trend of double-digit decreases in handle."

Jerry Hollendorfer was the leading trainer with nine wins and Russell Baze was the leading jockey with 16 wins.

Sonoma County Fair Celebrated 75th Anniversary

SANTA ROSA

The Sonoma County Fair marked its 75th anniversary in 2011. As part of the Diamond Jubilee celebration, the fair extended the entertainment, carnival, and vendors to 17 days, which meant that Wine County Racing was held concurrent with fair activities for the entire run. This new schedule in 2011 resulted in a 7 percent attendance increase compared to 2010.

To provide continuity with Del Mar, Santa Rosa was the only Northern California meet racing five-day weeks. During the 15-day meet, seven stakes were offered, and with the only turf course on the fair circuit, Santa Rosa provided turf specialists with opportunities to compete after a six-week break.

The highlight of the race meet was the unveiling of a newly constructed paddock. The design provides a clear view and easy access to the racetrack for fair patrons. The new paddock is 2½ times larger than the previous enclosure and has drawn rave reviews from horsemen and fans alike.

Declines for Humboldt County Fair as Racing Calendar Changed

FERNDALE

The 115th Humboldt County Fair featured eight days of racing. In 2010 the California Horse Racing Board granted approval for five days of non-overlapped racing during the meet's closing week, a first for Ferndale. The move back to concurrent weekend racing contributed to a 14-percent decrease in on-track handle, a 68-percent decrease in the Northern California satellite network handle, and a 27-percent decrease in out-of-state handle.

The Humboldt County Fair, famous for an atmosphere reminiscent of the early days of racing, celebrated the 58th running of the C. J. Hindley Humboldt County Marathon. The 1 5/8-mile race, run over Ferndale's half-mile track, gave fans the opportunity to see the runners cross the finish line four times before the completion of the race. The 2011 renewal was won by Steel Blue, trained by Phil Oviedo, owned by Allen Aldrich, and piloted by Barrington Harvey.

Due to offering purses at parity with other Northern California venues, along with aggressive recruiting in Idaho and Oregon, thoroughbred runners made 250 starts in 39 races. Of those starts, 105 were made by horses from Washington, Oregon, and Idaho.

Big Fresno Fair Closed Out Northern Fair Circuit with Large Gains

FRESNO

The Big Fresno Fair, which has renovated its track, paddock, and barn area in recent years, continued to improve its racing product with a new infield carnival area for children and entertainment between races. The fair, known for its large and enthusiastic crowds, enjoyed unseasonably cool weather the first week of the meet and drew an audience of 549,155.

The nine-day meet concluded with Northern California handle up 4 percent, out-of-state handle up 25 percent, and all-source live handle up 10 percent from 2010. Fresno also benefitted from out-of-state recruitment efforts; field size increased from 7.49 in 2010 to 7.9 in 2011.

California champion and Grade II winner Bold Chieftain made his second-to-last start a winning one when he captured the $50,000 Bull Dog Stakes on closing day.

It was the 15th stakes victory for the 8-year-old, who retired with earnings of $1.7 million.

Two additional $75,000 routes for 2 year olds improved the fair's stakes program and proved to be stepping stones for stakes-caliber horses. Longview Drive, who won the Charlie Palmer Stakes, went on to run third in the Delta Downs Jackpot, and Killer Graces, who ran second in the Soviet Problem Stakes, went on to win the Grade I Hollywood Starlet Stakes.

There was a three-way tie in the trainer's standings, with Steve Sherman, Andy Mathis, and John Martin each saddling six winners. Mathis officially won the title, based on the point system. Leading jockey was Russell Baze with 19 wins.

Large crowds continued to show up for Fresno racing.
